

WE NOMINATE

Charles Klemm Agle, 43-year old specialist in housing and city planning and vehement critic of what he terms "outmoded habits and prejudices," who, with the imaginative help of his wife and in his own time, has succeeded in translating carefully formulated theories into the actuality of a home designed for family living. Currently serving as chief of research and analysis for the consultants handling the rezoning survey of New York City, Agle on this community's "West Side" is completing what is undoubtedly the most thought-provoking residential unit in the entire Princeton Area.

While any number of Princetonians have built their own homes, it is refreshing to find a thinker, a leader in his field, a writer and college lecturer, doing everything on his own, with the exception of the footings, the pouring and screeding of the slab and "tying in the plumbing with the street." A year ago in The New York Times Agle advocated such principles as "housekeeping labor must be reduced," "homes must be designed and furnished to live in." At every turn, even in moving into the equivalent of a 10-room house in February when the structure was only a heated shell, Agle has been true to his convictions.

Holding several patents on inventions and a skilled electrician, this former F.H.A. expert has disregarded tradition. The laundry is located in the center of the bedroom area, not in the basement or just off the kitchen. The kitchen oven is waist-high. All shelves are adjustable to the demands of the moment—two feet or more high for wedding-gift vases, a few inches apart for baby-foods. The children's sitting room is linked to their sleeping-quarters. In accordance with Agle doctrine, the family's requirements come first.

A native of Illinois, and trained as an architect here at the University and abroad, Agle was concerned with industrial design, urban housing and city planning before he was tapped for government service in 1935. For the next nine years, until "un-frozen" for naval duty in 1944, he was responsible for planning and building large-scale public housing projects, east of the Mississippi and north of the Mason-Dixon Line, and came to see at first hand that "the way American cities have missed opportunities to be attractive and decently livable is a domestic tragedy ranking with world politics."

For demonstrating that architects can alleviate the "speed, confusion and pressure" of life at mid-century; for helping laymen understand that the clichés of "functional" and "modern" are as outdated as Victorian houses; for maintaining that sound home-planning is based upon "doing what comes naturally;" he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

Random Notes. Counterfeit $20 bills have been turning up in the Mercer County area during the past week. Each has a faulty letter H and each bears the same serial number: H79390913.

Of the State's bumper potato crop of 11 million bushels, as many as half the number being harvested daily are being dyed green and plowed back into the ground. Uncle Sam picks up the check.

Trenton barbers are considering charging $1 for a haircut. If the increase spreads to Princeton, it might be the sign for returning undergraduates to go unshorn as a protest.

Plans are under way to form a joint defense council for the borough and township. Similar steps were taken just nine years ago
this Summer.

Action has been initiated in the House of Representatives to restore two-a-day mail deliveries. A Senate sub-committee is already unanimously on record favoring such a move, but even if both branches of Congress approve it,
the necessary funds must first be appropriated.

The hurricane season has started in Florida and the Caribbean. If weather cycles have any meaning,
Princeton is due for another this Fall: the last two came just six years apart (1938 and 1944) and this is 1950.

Puzzle Unsolved. Federal census officials from Philadelphia have concluded a spot check of the 1950
$300 to $400) and have determined that there is no variance from the number reported in June. However, the total of 11,865 has been definitely declared to include some 4,200 students, leaving the municipality's permanent population in the neighborhood of 7,600.

"An error of some sort" is believed to have been made in enumerating the 1940 population insofar as the tabulation of students is concerned. This would eliminate the chance of a decrease in the borough's size during the past decade—an actual impossibility but one that had been given attention when the confused situation was first brought to light. Nothing has been found, however, to correct the growing impression that just about every one in the community has misjudged its correct population by more than 50 percent for two decades or more.

in a series of races, they gained one thirds.

The Sturges' yacht was the "Sapphire," two of whose crew, the mayor reports, at first gave some rather mutinous reactions to wearing the ship's colors (orange and black) on their shirts. Seems the pair in question—fine sailors in every other respect—were members of the Yale hockey team.

One incident marred the otherwise enjoyable week. Mrs. Sturges suffered an attack of appendicitis
and was at sea for 28 hours before she could be brought to medical care. An operation followed and she has now fully recovered.

Another Princetonian taking part in the cruise was Mrs. Edgar Palmer. She had chartered the "Manxman," currently the largest

Helping Hands. Fourteen-year old Bobby Cook, son of Mrs. Albert J. Cook of Franklin Terrace, is in Princeton Hospital with a fractured skull. The injury was sustained when he collided with a teammate while chasing a pop fly in a Junior Baseball League game.

To help the widowed Mrs. Cook meet medical and hospital expenses, a benefit game was scheduled for Wednesday evening on Brookaw Field. Meanwhile, Billy Rodefeld, 13, and Peter Lappam, 14, canvassed Jefferson Road, Moore Street and Valley Road, netting $41. Similar activity is being undertaken by members of the Holy Name team, and Earl N. Stratton (of the Princeton Fuel Oil Company) is acting as treasurer.

Price War Continues. The gasoline price war at the dealers' level and the resultant two-day shutdown ended last Friday but by mid-week there were indications that the cut-throat competition would be resumed at the wholesalers' level. Price cuts began immediately at some stations, were expected to follow everywhere and would run as much as 3.5 cents per gallon.

In the Newark, Trenton and Camden areas, prices were slashed, with the explanation that the wholesale figure had been cut, thus enabling the dealer to lower his charge to the consumer and still make a profit. If the battle continued to be fought at the wholesale level, motorists might find the reduced prices a pleasant exception from the current upward trend in the cost of living.

Whatever development the dispute in the industry took, a return to last week's shutdown was unlikely. Fully a third of the state's 6,000 gasoline stations remained opened, nullifying the attempt at an effective drought launched by the many who closed.

Heaviest loser in this area appeared to be a Lawrence Township resident. When refused gasoline at a closed station, the irritated punch he leveled at the owner cost him $50.

A Good Job Is Finished. This Friday concludes the successful eight-week summer recreation program which the community playgrounds committee has conducted to the delight of many adults as well as some 1,000 children.

Supervisor C. Edward Christian reported that the five community tennis tournaments attracted 136 entries all told. But it was the youngsters who benefitted most from the myriad playground and wading pool activities that ranged from story-telling hours to hectic pet shows.

Based on such qualities as cooperation, leadership, sportsmanship and participation, the most outstanding boy and girl at each of the four playgrounds have been awarded trophies. They are Ralph Pirone and Betty Ferrara at the high school field; Raymond Coughlan and Laura Ann Lazzari at Western Way; Nicholas Kovalakides and

"THE FAMILY REUNION"

ABOUT THE PLAY

When the curtain rises next Tuesday evening on George Bernard Shaw's MAJOR BARBARA, you will meet characters such as Snobby Price, a painter who believes that every good worker should leave half of his job undone so that his fellow worker can have a chance; Rummy Michens, who will risk everything for a free meal; Lady Britomart, one of the funniest characters in all Shavian comedy, and of course Major Barbara herself, a serious young girl dedicated to humanity, but not to humans.

You will move with these characters from a wealthy mansion to a Salvation Army kitchen, and finally to a munitions factory. Here you will discover a way of life entirely new to your imagination such as only Shaw can create. For MAJOR BARBARA is Bernard Shaw at his brilliant best.—Adv.

News of the Theatres

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS

Another wide swing in the dramatic cycle has been taken by the University Players this week as they veer from the amusing "Too Many Thumbs" to T. S. Eliot's "The Family Reunion," direct predecessor of "The Cocktail Party." Written in blank verse, this drama reveals the emotional experiences of the considerably obsessed Lord Monchensy when he returns to the family hearth for the observance of his mother's 70th birthday. Mr. Eliot's writing, at first examination, is occasionally obtuse in the scenes when it manages to be lucid—at least to an average mind such as ours—it does not fail to be frequently stirring. The various situations in which his characters are involved manage nicely to provide a tenseness that heightens the interest despite the lack of real action. Certainly Tuesday's first-night audience was enthusiastic over what it saw.

The Players' two principal standbys—Peggy Kalmor Allison and Karl Light—meet the standards that one has taken for granted they will not fail to display. The former is particularly to be commended for her bearing, while over-all performance by Mr. Light was most impressive. The selection of an Eliot play was a distinct challenge, but has not proved to be other than a sound choice in line with a policy that calls for a varied presentation of really "good theatre."

Next week, the pendulum swings back, as the Players offer G. B. Shaw's "Major Barbara." A popular story (see details at the left), it has always ranked as a crowd-pleaser.

THE MCCARTER

The Princeton Summer Theatre announced this week that, despite its season's end this Saturday a fortnight earlier than had been planned, it would be back in 1951. Inability to bring any of the additional plays under consideration to Princeton was given as the reason for the premature finish, second in a row in the McCarter. The first offering, Zachary Scott in "Blind Alley," is a psychological drama in which a gangster turned killer is turned inside out by the professor in whose house he takes refuge. The latter effects the murderer's downfall by showing him how his paranoic disturbances originated and proving that they are past the point of cure.

Despite this theme, action holds proper control over dialogue, with gunplay ringing down the curtain on each of the three acts. The lack of impact in the final scene is the play's primary weakness. Mr. Scott is convincing as the cornered, snarling killer; Robert Allen's portrayal of the psychiatrist is another contribution to the well-rounded performance.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Treasure Island (Thurs.-Sat.), Walt Disney's first full-length picture without animation, is a faithful reproduction in color of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous 18th century tale of pirates hunting a golden fortune. Action at outset is slow and the film is overlong, but it closes with a robust climax.

Alan Richards Photo

Art Close and Miriam Brokaw won the mixed doubles tennis title Monday afternoon when they topped Mrs. Robert Sullivan and Robert Shaw in a two-hour battle, 6-3, 3-6, 10-8. In standing on the left when this picture was taken, the eventual winners were unaware that they were defying what had become a tradition this Summer: in each of three previous tournaments when the finalists posed for Town Topics' photographer before starting their match, the future champions stood on the right.

Sports in Short

Play-offs on Brokaw. A pair of forfeit wins over Monmouth Junction during the past week assured Princeton a berth in the Twin-M League play-offs. The final season record of 19-and-9 for Tom Brophy's nine was good enough for a second-place tie with Hightstown.

Just what role Princeton would play in the Shaughnessy play-off system was still undetermined by mid-week. A second-place play-off against Hightstown was a possibility, but the shortness of time may force the teams to resort to a coin toss to determine which would be declared the third-place team for purposes of the play-offs.

The third-place team faced the possibility of an early tournament elimination at the hands of top-running Belle Mead. The second place club, on the other hand, would play fourth place Pennington in the first round three-game series.

Against Belle Mead or against Pennington, Brophy's nine would open the play-offs this Thursday on Brokaw Field. A carnival on Belle Mead's home diamond meant that all of its games would be played away from home and may bring some extra baseball treats to Brokaw Field.

Brophy's trio of hurlers, Bob DiGiovanni, David Ogonofski and Chick Davis, was in top shape for play-off action this week after a series of minor troubles during the regular season.

The regular season ended with the individual batting averages as follows:

	A. R.	H.	Av.

ETS Moves Ahead. In a tense contest that may have decided the second-half championship of the girls' softball league, ETS survived a seventh inning rally by the Golden Girls to win 4-3 Tuesday before an enthusiastic crowd on William and Olden Field.

Superior fielding was the key factor in the important victory that gave ETS undisputed possession of first place. The winners touched Kiki Brabson for only four hits, but they capitalized on four walks and six Golden errors to produce two runs in the first and single markers in the third and fourth.

Meanwhile little Alice Keunji aided by good fielding support, blanked the Golden Girls on five hits in the first six innings. In the seventh she yielded three hits and a walk that were good for three runs. With the tying run on second and one out, leftfielder Janie MacKinnon speared a long hard drive off the bat of Kiki Alice got the next batter to bounce out and the ball game was over.

In pre-game practice, ETS outfielder Kitty Norris suffered a broken wrist when she slipped and fell while chasing a fly ball. But the league leaders have now disposed of their two most formidable obstacles, the Golden Girls and the Fieletes.

The Piels won two close games during the past week to keep them close to the top in the second half chase. Upset by ETS in the first game of the new half, the first half champs have roared back with four straight triumphs.

Emma Embly, their injured pitching and hitting star, needed just one turn at the plate to convince everyone again how valuable she was to the Piels. Last Wednesday the league's hard luck team, the Eaglettes, was leading the Piels 9-7 going into the last of the seventh.

One run was driven across by Ida McHugh to make the score 9-8. With Piels on first and third, Emma made her first and only appearance of the second half. She came in to pinch hit and promptly doubled to send home the tying and winning runs.

The Piels squeezed past the surprising young Coan's army, 7-5, and Golden Girls really had a tough time beating Swinnerton's, 7-6, in other close games. ETS trounced Thorne's, 19-3, and the Eaglettes swamped Opinion Research, 26-2.

Opinion Research	0	5

Rare Performances. Two of the lowliest teams in the men's softball leagues turned in surprising performances against the loop leaders during the past week. The Bank Street Tigers, doormat of the A league, extended the fabulous Phantoms before losing, 19-18. With the bases loaded and one away, the Tigers couldn't punch across the winning runs in the seventh.

In B league action, lowly Opinion Research jarred AVC with an 11-1 setback on Monday. Bert Anderson silenced the AVC bats with four hits. However, the Vets bounced back on Tuesday to sew up first place in the league with a 14-7 win over the National Guard.

Tony Gaylord, who checked the Phantoms for Pete's A. C. last week, gave the league leaders an assist on Monday when he shut out second-place Esposito's, 2-0. It was another outstanding showing for Pete's who have served notice that they will be mighty tough in the play-offs.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

whose ruthless career makes exciting but not always pleasant entertainment.

Three Little Words (Wed.-Sat.) is further proof that Fred Astaire never had any intention of quitting the film. He's cast here with Red Skelton in the biography of Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby, the pair who wrote the title song and numerous lesser-known melodies. A typical Technicolor musical notable for the unsurpassed footwork of Mr. Astaire, abetted by the almost equally able Vera-Ellen.

THE GARDEN

Peggy (Fri.-Sat.) records the efforts of Diana Lynn to escape coronation as the Rosebush Queen in Pasadena. A pointless plot and humor that is equally ineffectual combine to throttle the picture's entertainment value as a pictorial report on the colorful Tournament of Roses.

In the Good Old Summertime (Mon.-Tues.), a musical in color that was a success a couple of seasons ago, is back again. Judy Garland and Van Johnson sing and dance their way through an easy-going bit of hot-weather entertainment.

A Royal Affair (Wed.-Thurs.), in French with English titles, is a hound-dog comedy that serves to bring Maurice Chevalier back to these shores. His appeal two decades ago was lost upon us, and we are unable to find that the intervening time, part of which was reportedly spent as a collaborator with German occupation forces, has added to his attractiveness as an entertainer.

Rogues of Sherwood Forest (Fri.-Sat.), as the title implies, records the adventures of Robin Hood, specifically his part in forcing King John to accept the Magna Carta. Archery, swordplay, adventure and romance are all a part of this carefree piece that is good entertainment for the younger set. With John Derek, Diana Lynn.

The New Jersey Poll
SHOPPING FRIDAY NIGHTS
IS LIKED BEST BY PUBLIC
THROUGHOUT NEW JERSEY

In a number of communities
throughout the state, stores stay open for business one or more nights a week as a convenience to
the public.
In these places
the big problem is to select a night
for the stores to stay open that will best serve the convenience of the greatest number of people in the area. A recent statewide survey
on the subject
shows that so far as the New Jersey adult public is concerned, Friday night for shopping is definitely preferred over all other nights.

When given a choice of shopping nights, more New Jerseyans prefer having the stores stay open Friday
than on all other nights combined.
Additional evidence of the strong preference for Friday night shopping can be seen from the fact that three times as many people in today's survey named Friday as named any other night in the week.
Next most popular shopping night, but trailing far behind is Thursday, closely followed by Saturday and Wednesday in a tie for third place. Highlight of today's findings is that Friday is far and away the most popular shopping night in the week with every population group measured in today's survey—men and women; young and old; manual workers and white-collar workers, and residents of big cities, medium and small sized towns, and rural areas.
When New Jersey Poll staff reporters asked a cross-section of New Jersey citizens in 17 of the state's 21 counties and in 46 different communities:

"If the stores where you do your regular shopping were to stay open only one evening a week and you yourself could choose the evening,
what evening would you prefer having the stores stay open?"

The results were:

Friday	45%
Thursday	15
Saturday	12
Wednesday	12
Monday	2
Tuesday	2
No difference	12

An interesting sidelight in today's survey is that Friday as a shopping night (although No. 1
with all groups) is considerably
more popular with manual workers (skilled mechanics, semi-skilled workers and unskilled labor) than it is with white-collar workers (clerks, sales people, business men and professional people).

The vote by occupation groups
follows:

	Manual Workers	White- Collar Workers
Friday	49%	39%
Thursday	13	19
Saturday	12	10
Wednesday	9	15
Tuesday	3	1
Monday	2	3
No difference	12	13

season and move on to Blairstown,
the training camp site which proved distinctly successful last Fall.
The campaign opens against Williams September 30.

Another Conquest for Science That Benefits You!

Science has conquered many ills. Now, in the Summer of 1950, it comes forward with a new discovery . . . a simple, pleasant way to control odors of the body and breath. The product is Nulla tablets—taken internally once a day.

Nulla is made from the same substance that you eat every time you have a fresh green vegetable. Its not a mask or a "cover-up," but a natural enemy of body and breath odors, and it's safe as a lettuce leaf! One tablet a day will assure you of personal cleanliness for 12 to 18 hours.

Start the Day with Nulla—
Be Sure YOU Won't OFFEND!
